Dawn Patrol and Aeroplane Races

August 23rd and 24th saw the second annual Dawn Patrol and Classic Aeroplane Races sponsored by the Northwest R/C Aviators take place at Grant Sharp's Green Acres Field in Molalla. John Raddebaugh, CD and Master of Ceremonies kept things running smoothly and efficiently throughout both days with the scheduled old time aeroplane races plus several impromptu, low-key races and contests. There looked to be over 30 WW I or older airplanes on hand for the fun.

Joe Topper had his new prototype Fokker Spin on hand for the races. See the picture page. Unfortunately, after repeated attempts to get the beast in the air, it would just not rotate. Joe tried several different weight distributions and some other tricks but nothing worked. Finally, the plane did a pretty severe cartwheel and damaged the tail and flying wires causing Joe to give up.

The scheduled aeroplane races were flown both Saturday and Sunday and the best of the heats was declared the winner. During the first heat on Saturday, Bruce Harlow had a terrible time getting his Nieuport under control. The plane has a very small rudder and a light crosswind caught the plane taking him way over the pits. Bruce hung on and managed to get the aircraft back over the runway and a safe landing. Things were pretty tense there for a while.

Gene LaFond managed to win the race followed by Gary Parker and Dick Heininger with Dick's big Antic.

There were other races for fun during the event. One was for just the WW I birds which Joe Topper managed to win with his Nieuport 28. A second race consisted of the fastest time through a given distance and then the longest time through. Joe also won that event by doing continuous loops after entering the course until he got tired and then exiting the course to hammer the slowest time. All's fair in love and war.

There were four Antics on hand for the event but John DesIlets lost his on Friday. John also crashed his DR I making his outing a bit frustrating. The DR I looked repairable so John should have it in the air again soon.

Bruce Harlow was the first up at dawn with a bombing sortie. The light was just beginning to show in the East when Bruce took off. He was soon followed by a whole gaggle of war birds that filled the early dawn skies.

Grant Sharp was honoured with a plaque for his allowing the use of the field. It is a great place to fly. He was also given a new Proctor Antic Parasol kit.

A lovely lass handed out the awards and prizes but I did not get her name. She certainly made not winning first place a highlight for these old pilots and their old airplanes. All in all a nice show hosted by Mr. Raddebaugh. I hope to be there next year.

New Club Roster

The new 2003-2004 club roster will be available at the club meeting. If you do not make the meeting, the roster will be mailed out. If you do not receive your roster in the mail soon after the meeting, contact Bill Ely at 503-657-3480 for a copy.

Club Gallery

Has anyone noticed the club gallery on the web site lately? Craig Cook is quietly doing a bang-up job of covering the various club events throughout the year. Take a peak next time you are on the web. You might see your ugly mug there along with some great airplane shots. Nice work Craig.

Lendhart's Airpark Burgled

Our good friend, Jack Lendhart, had his airport office burglarised August 30th. Items stolen were hand-held radios, charges, the old safe and a Honda Valkyrie. One of the suspects is about 30 years of age, approximately 5'8", 160 pounds driving a late model white Ford service truck with racks and fuel tanks, generator, etc. in the bed of the truck. There was no license plate on the rear of the vehicle and no company name on the truck. If anyone has any information on the suspect or anyone tries to sell any of the stolen merchandise, please let Jack know at the airport. The address is: AirHaven, Inc., 29502 S. Meridian Road, Hubbard, OR 97032.

As an aside, Jack has donated his helicopter collection to the Evergreen Air Museum in McMinnville. A good reason to visit the museum in your spare time to check out the choppers and the new SR-71.

Northwest Pylon Racing on Hold

In a meeting on Saturday, September 6th, an ad hoc committee reviewed the possibility of continuing pylon racing at the new Clark County R/C field in back of the Clark County Fairgrounds. The consensus of opinion was that the racing would be put on hold until further notice.

The new field is located inside the new Amphitheatre parking area with the runway and over fly area among light standards that are about 50 feet high and spaced on a 200-foot grid. In addition, the runway is asphalt paved and the surrounding area is gravel. The committee looked at several different possibilities to set the pylons including using the light standards as pylons. The conclusion was that there was too much inherent danger of hitting a light standard while racing and the landing area was too rough for the airplanes that have no landing gear. Alternatives were to add landing gear to the planes, go electric to slow things down, or a new flying site. Food for thought at this point.

Hansen Scale Aviation Video #72

Dick Hansen has another new video out this month. It covers the 2003 Dawn Patrol, 2003 Central Oregon Jet and Scale Rally, Nanton Alberta Air Museum and the Wetaskawin Alberta Air Museum. Dick pumps these tapes out faster than you can get the results of the contests.

Specially interesting in this tape is Joe Topper's attempts to get the new Fokker Spin to fly. After several attempts at takeoff the plane would not rotate. Joe tried several different fixes at the field but, in the end, the plane cartwheeled and did enough damage that Joe had to give up. And Joe was all set to win the race. I will let you see the tape to find out who won.

If you like jets and love the sound of turbine engines then the segment on the Jet and Scale Rally is for you. Included on the tape is Joe Topper's ill-fated flight of the big Junkers JU-52. Joe lost the ailerons and crashed barely missing the crowd. Got to see it to believe it. Bruce Tharp's "Double Whammy" is also featured with its two Dynajet engines roaring through the Eastern Oregon skies; all worth the price of the tape.

Tapes are available from Dick for $19.95 ($15.00 to SkyKnight members). Contact him at 503-653-2578 or www.aero-sports.com/hansen.

Elections

Nominations are due for new club officers for next year. All positions are open so now is your chance to take control and inflict unbridled power on the masses. Please keep campaign speeches to less than one hour so we have a little time for other business.

Voting will take place by those in attendance at the November meeting. If you do not want to be elected to something, you better show up to cast your ballot and defend thy self.

Pearl Harbor Days

It's inventory reduction time! Got any airplanes you can't sell, won't run right, hate with a passion? Here comes your chance to eliminate some of that excess baggage at the Estacada Airport on December 7th at the annual Pearl Harbor Days. Flying will start around 9ish weather permitting. The 14th will be the rain date, as if rain ever stopped anything. Landing fees are $5.00.

Our good friends, the airport owners Bob and Bev Veley, will have the usual hot dogs and a hot fire for your convenience and comfort. This is always the wildest fun fly you will ever see or participate in so come on out, you won't be disappointed.

New this year will be a rule! No more pylon racing around the limbo poles. You must be able to drop a bomb and you must fly the routine. We will also try to have some sort of crowd control to keep spectators back from the flight line.

All proceeds will go to the Children's Cancer Association so come on out and join in the flying or just come to watch and donate a buck or two to the cause. What better reason do you need to join in? See you there.

September Meeting Highlights

Guy Foreman commented on the Velvet Wing Fund. For new members, the Fund was established to provide for a cash payout to the survivor of a member at his/her death. To become a member of the Fund and therefore, eligible for the payout to your beneficiary, you need to contribute $5.00. Each time there is a member death, the Fund is paid out and then it is required to kick in another "fiver." Check with Guy for details.

Due to being blown off the map at Pine Hollow this year, the question has been raised if there might be another flying site as good or better than Pine Hollow. If you have any ideas let Bob Tinsley know.

Bill Ely asked all members to try and get the Flight Line off the web site rather than having a copy mailed. This saves the club considerable printing and mailing costs and besides that, the pictures are in living color. If you can get your copy off the web, let Bill know so he can delete your name from the mailing list.

Indoor electric flying started at Camp Withycombe on the 8th of October. Next round will be on the 22nd and will start at about 5:00 pm. Bob Tinsley has details.

See the calendar or the web site for other dates.

Bill Hobbs has volunteered to build two new club trainers for next season. He will use the gear out of the existing trainers (that have taken a beating). The models will be based on the new SPAD craze using coroplast.

Show and tell included yours truly's new Proctor Antic Monoplane powered by a Laser 70 and covered with Nelson Lite Fab.

Jim Lucas showed his own scratch built design of a high wing, slightly better, than a trainer. He did everything the old fashion way such as covering with silk and dope, balsa built up wheel pants, nylon string baseball stitching for hinges, etc. Power is from a Saito 56. Nice clean looking aircraft.

Fred Countryman has his P-51 foamie electric powered plane. The plane has plans on the web where you just download the various parts, apply them to the foam, cutout and glue together and, viola, you are about ready to go. Fred won the prize for show and tell.

The raffle prizes for the evening went to:
Electra Jet – John Fox
Sig Electric Jenny – Bob Wood
Ultra Stand – Glen Thornton
Coffee Mug – Dave Elasser
Great Planes Sanding Bar – Jerry Baker
And Gary Cosmer took the glue

All the raffle prizes this month were purchased from Coyote Hobbies in Oregon City at a nice discount. In addition, the hobby shop provided some free rulers and key chains for the members. Patronize these shops to show them our appreciation.

Jim Gindlesperger, Bill Redding, Dave Anderson, Dale McDonald, Joe Short and Harry Clark each won a door prize. The prizes were a choice of hats, shirts and crying towels.
